

Press Information

Deborah DiSanzo

CEO of Philips Healthcare and member of the Executive Committee as per May 1st 2012

Deborah DiSanzo (American, 1960) started her career as Vice President and General Manager of the Hewlett-Packard Medical Cardiac Resuscitation and Cardiac Systems businesses.

Mrs. DiSanzo joined Philips in 2001 when Philips acquired Agilent's Healthcare Solutions Group, starting a long career at Philips Healthcare. Mrs. DiSanzo became General Manager of Patient Monitoring in June 2006 and CEO of Healthcare Informatics and Patient Monitoring in June 2008. In April 2010, Mrs. DiSanzo became CEO of Patient Care and Clinical Informatics (PCCI).

Mrs. DiSanzo holds an MBA from Babson College, and a BS in business administration and computer science from Merrimack College. She lives in the Boston area with her family.