Creating the future of healthcare together

Now is the time to redefine what healthcare is and could be. Whether you are worried about healthcare costs rising year after year, or aim to be at the forefront in achieving the best patient outcomes.

Improving healthcare can be exciting and overwhelming. Health systems are challenged with improving care delivery while costs of care are rising and doing less with more becomes necessary. This requires to take a different approach to solving problems.

Quadruple aim

HealthSuite Labs are highly engaging and insightful sessions with Philips expertise that support you in this healthcare transformation journey. It helps to expand perspectives, to prioritize strategic directions and to define starting points to improve on the Quadruple Aim together.

Better health outcomes

Improved patient experience

Improved staff experience

Lower cost of care

Expand perspectives

Envision the future of healthcare for you and discover the possibilities of technological advancements that fit your ambitions

Establish priorities

Envision to define clear objective, solutions or collaborations to improve healthcare now and in the near future

Create starting points

Build teams and together, agree on starting points, define requirements, drive progress and plan for success

Design thinking

Enabled by our design thinking approach, we provide a collaborative environment to co-create the right starting points, a realistic view of options and the foundation for further collaboration towards improving healthcare delivery.

We orchestrate the experience, so the time you and your stakeholders spent with Philips will be well invested.

Custom approach

HealthSuite Labs are completely shaped around your aspirations and challenges. It could relate to a specific clinical area like cardiology, a department like radiology or an overarching aspiration like connecting care between hospital and home.

Together we define the desired impact for you and your stakeholders – varying from building a vision for care delivery to outlining a solution and a concrete plan for tackling your healthcare challenge to take a different approach to solving problems.

“The conversations we had, being able to leverage the expertise of our friends and partners at Philips made me feel really confident that there are solutions out there that we just haven’t been able to leverage quite yet.”
