What Personal Data are collected; Why are these Personal Data collected? With whom are Personal Data shared? How long will the Personal Data be kept?

What	Why	Source	Whom	How long
Raw CT data	Research of dual energy and multi energy spectral CT imaging applications and/or CT systems to enhance image quality, diagnostic confidence and reduced radiation dose.	Data Source	Philips	Periodic review, every five years

Periodic review: Philips will delete your data after a certain time, unless a clear reason exists why the data is still useful and relevant. Then again, a periodic review cycle starts.

To protect your privacy, all directly identifying data (example: name, medical record number, contact details) were separated from the research data (such as measurement data) and replaced by a participant code. Philips will only process the research data mentioned in the table above.

What is the purpose and legal basis of the processing?

Based on legitimate interest and in combination with the scientific research exemption, Philips processes your Personal Data for the following purposes:

- We plan to research different options of new algorithms, e.g. artificial intelligence, to enable spectral imaging applications with conventional CT scanners and to support the fundamental development of future spectral CT systems. We further plan to present results at scientific conferences. Publication of novel research is of benefit for the public and the research community and can be the base for improving existing or developing new products and services for the public (health) benefit.

Insofar as we have a legitimate interest, we may process your data for the following purposes:

- To aggregate and/or anonymize Personal Data, so that it will no longer be considered Personal Data. We can do so to generate other data for our use, which we may use and disclose for any purpose.

To comply with legal obligations Philips may process or disclose your data for the following purposes:

- For audits, to verify that our internal processes function as intended and are compliant with legal, regulatory or contractual requirements;
- To comply with applicable law - this can include laws outside of your country of residence;
- To respond to requests from public and government authorities, these can include authorities outside your country of residence;
- To cooperate with law enforcement, for example law enforcement requests and orders;
- We may also process or disclose your data to protect your or someone else's vital interests.

With whom do we share your Personal Data?

We may disclose your Personal Data:

- To the parties specific to the initiative you take part in, as set out on page 1;
- Our affiliates or subsidiaries for the purposes in this privacy notice. Affiliates all process data under the same set of Binding Corporate Rules (www.philips.com/privacy);
- To our third party service providers who provide services such as website hosting, data analysis, information technology and related infrastructure provision, email delivery, auditing and other services;

Security

We seek to use reasonable organizational, technical and administrative measures to protect personal data within our organization. If you have reason to believe that your interaction with us is no longer secure, please immediately notify us in accordance with the “How can you contact us?” section below.

What are your rights?

If you would like to:

- Ask questions about how we handle personal data;
- Request to review, correct, update, suppress or restrict the use of your personal data;
- Request that your personal data be removed;
- Withdraw your consent (Only possible if the processing is based on your consent. It will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on your consent before the withdrawal);
- Object to our use of your personal data for our legitimate business interests;
- Request to receive an electronic copy of your personal data for purposes of transmitting it to another company (to the extent this right to data portability is provided to you by applicable law), please contact us via the details provided under the “How can you contact us?” section below. We will respond to your request consistent with applicable law.

In your request, please make clear what personal data you would like to have changed, whether you would like to have your personal data suppressed, or otherwise let us know what limitations you would like to put on our use of your personal data. For your protection, we only implement requests with respect to the personal data associated with the particular email address that you use to send us your request, and we may need to verify your identity before implementing your request. We will try to comply with your request as soon as reasonably practicable.

Please note that we need to retain certain information for recordkeeping purposes (e.g., there could be legal obligations to retain certain information, if so, you are not be able to change or delete the personal data provided until after the retention period in that respect has passed).

Updates to this Privacy Notice

We may change this privacy notice. The “Last update” legend at the top of this privacy notice indicates when it was last revised. Any changes will become effective when the revised privacy notice is made available (online if it was already online, otherwise mail or email). If the change to this privacy notice is indicative of a fundamental change to the nature of the processing (e.g. enlargement of the categories of recipients or introduction of transfers to third countries) or a change that may be relevant to and impact upon you, then we will inform you in advance of the change taking effect in an explicit and effective way.
