What Personal Data are collected? Why are these Personal Data collected? Where is the data coming from (source)? With whom are Personal Data shared? How long will the Personal Data be kept?

What	Why	Source	Whom	How long
MR brain scans, database fields related to neurological and psychiatric diseases as well as correlated annotations	Scientific Research on multi-modal biomarkers for Neurological and/or Psychiatric diseases	Data Source= UK Biobank	Philips GmbH Innovative Technologies, Germany, DE Philips Research Eindhoven, NL and Philips Research North America, USA (both as data processor)	Philips Research Hamburg : All data will be deleted after participation in the project and publication of results is completed. This is expected to be at the end of 2023. Philips Research Eindhoven / Philips Research North America : Temporary access to the data as long as for the processing required. Maximum processing time for a specific processing task is expected to be two months. If processing is finished all data and results at Philips Research Eindhoven / Philips Research North America will be deleted.

To protect your privacy, all directly identifying data (example: name, medical record number, contact details) were deleted by the “Data Source”. Philips has access only to research data (such as measurement data) in which all directly identifying data were replaced by a participant code. On all study-specific documents you will be referred to by a participant code, not by name.

What is the purpose and legal basis of the processing?

Based on our legitimate interest, we process the personal data for the purpose of conducting scientific research:

- We plan to research the diagnostic benefit of advanced pre-processing of MR brain scans with respect to standard approaches by applying it to subjects suffering from Neurological / Psychiatric disorders as well as healthy controls and to publish results of this study in a scientific journal. Publication of novel research is of benefit for the public and the research community and can be the base for improving existing or developing new products and services for the public (health) benefit.

Insofar as we have a legitimate interest, we may process your data for the following purposes:

- To aggregate and/or anonymize Personal Data, so that it will no longer be considered Personal Data. We can do so to generate other data for our use, which we may use and disclose for any purpose.

To comply with legal obligations Philips may process or disclose your data for the following purposes:

- For audits, to verify that our internal processes function as intended and are compliant with legal, regulatory or contractual requirements;
- To comply with applicable law - this can include laws outside of your country of residence;
- To respond to requests from public and government authorities, these can include authorities outside your country of residence;
- To cooperate with law enforcement, for example law enforcement requests and orders;
- We may also process or disclose your data to protect your or someone else's vital interests.

With whom do we share your Personal Data?

We may disclose your Personal Data:

- To our affiliate Philips Research Eindhoven (Brain, Behaviour and Cognition department) and Philips Research North America (Clinical Informatics Solutions and Services department) for the purposes described in this privacy notice. Affiliates all process data under the same set of Binding Corporate Rules (www.philips.com/privacy);
- To our third party service providers who provide services such as website hosting, data analysis, payment processing, order fulfilment, information technology and related infrastructure provision, customer service, email delivery, auditing and other services;

Security

We seek to use reasonable organizational, technical and administrative measures to protect personal data within our organization. If you have reason to believe that your interaction with us is no longer secure, please immediately notify us in accordance with the "How can you contact us?" section below.

What are your rights?

If you would like to:

- Ask questions about how we handle personal data;
- Request to review, correct, update, suppress or restrict the use of your personal data;
- Request that your personal data be removed;
- Withdraw your consent (Only possible if the processing is based on your consent. It will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on your consent before the withdrawal);
- Object to our use of your personal data for our legitimate business interests;
- Request to receive an electronic copy of your personal data for purposes of transmitting it to another company (to the extent this right to data portability is provided to you by applicable law), please contact us via the details provided under the "How can you contact us?" section below. We will respond to your request consistent with applicable law.

In your request, please make clear what personal data you would like to have changed, whether you would like to have your personal data suppressed, or otherwise let us know what limitations you would like to put on our use of your personal data. For your protection, we only implement requests with respect to the personal data associated with the particular email address that you use to send us your request, and we may need to verify your identity before implementing your request. We will try to comply with your request as soon as reasonably practicable.

Please note that we need to retain certain information for recordkeeping purposes (e.g., there could be legal obligations to retain certain information, if so, you are not be able to change or delete the personal data provided until after the retention period in that respect has passed).

Updates to this Privacy Notice

We may change this privacy notice. The “Last update” legend at the top of this privacy notice indicates when it was last revised. Any changes will become effective when the revised privacy notice is made available (online if it was already online, otherwise mail or email). If the change to this privacy notice is indicative of a fundamental change to the nature of the processing (e.g. enlargement of the categories of recipients or introduction of transfers to third countries) or a change that may be relevant to and impact upon you, then we will inform you in advance of the change taking effect in an explicit and effective way.
