

Quarterly report

Q4 2010

Philips reports fourth-quarter net income of EUR 465 million, EBITA of EUR 873 million and sales of EUR 7.4 billion

- Net income of EUR 465 million, an increase of EUR 205 million compared to Q4 2009
- EBITA of EUR 873 million at 11.8% of sales in the quarter
- Nominal sales of EUR 7.4 billion, 2% higher year-on-year
- Comparable sales declined 4%, primarily reflecting weak consumer demand in Western Europe
- Emerging market sales increased from 31% to 33% of Group sales
- Strong cash flow of EUR 1.3 billion
- Proposed dividend increased to EUR 0.75 per share

“We finished a strong 2010 on a stable note with fourth-quarter EBITA of EUR 873 million, or 11.8 % of sales, bringing EBITA for the full year to a record 10%.

Revenue for the quarter came in at EUR 7.4 billion, a nominal increase of 2%. Comparable sales however declined by 4%, impacted by a weak Television market, negative consumer sentiment in developed markets and inventory management in the trade which resulted in a particularly slow December. Revenue in all three sectors was also negatively affected by fewer working days in the Philips reporting calendar.

On the positive side, we continued to see good mid-single-digit comparable sales growth at Home Healthcare Solutions and Patient Care & Clinical Informatics in Healthcare. Additionally, Healthcare orders grew 3% in the quarter, allowing order intake to grow 9% for the year, providing an excellent basis for sales growth in 2011. In Consumer Lifestyle, Personal Care and Health & Wellness posted strong high-single-digit growth. And in Lighting, Lumileds and LED-based lighting products and solutions continued their high double-digit growth rate.

For the full-year, sales, having rebounded strongly in the first half of the year, came in at EUR 25.4 billion, a 10% nominal increase from 2009. On a comparable basis, that represents growth of almost 4.5% for the year.

2010 was an eventful and overall positive year for Philips. We rebounded strongly from the economic downturn caused by the financial crisis. Within the constraints of an economy that remained weak, with fragile consumer confidence in most mature markets, we successfully implemented a major part of our Vision 2010 roadmap. Television profitability, however, remained a major issue that we are committed to resolve. We continued to strengthen our business portfolio and achieved an adjusted EBITA margin of 10.5%, significantly exceeding the target we had set ourselves three years ago. With that we set the stage for a successful future as outlined by our Vision 2015 program. Last but not least, we started to prepare for a seamless transition to a new leadership team.

Philips has undergone a profound transformation over the last decade. We are now a company with a clear focus, a customer-centric approach, a strong brand and a simpler structure. We are a global leader in important markets that are essential for tomorrow's world. We are a new Philips and we are ready for an even better future.”

Gerard Kleisterlee, President and CEO of Royal Philips Electronics

Third-party market share data

Statements regarding market share, including those regarding Philips' competitive position, contained in this document are based on outside sources such as research institutes, industry and dealer panels in combination with management estimates. Where information is not yet available to Philips, those statements may also be based on estimates and projections prepared by outside sources or management. Use of non-GAAP information

In presenting and discussing the Philips Group's financial position, operating results and cash flows, management uses certain non-GAAP financial measures. These non-GAAP financial measures should not be viewed in isolation as alternatives to the equivalent IFRS measures and should be used in conjunction with the most directly comparable IFRS measures. A reconciliation of such measures to the most directly comparable IFRS measures is contained in this document. Further information on non-GAAP measures can be found in our Annual Report 2009.

Use of fair-value measurements

In presenting the Philips Group's financial position, fair values are used for the measurement of various items in accordance with the applicable accounting standards. These fair values are based on market prices, where available, and are obtained from sources that are deemed to be reliable. Readers are cautioned that these values are subject to changes over time and are only valid at the balance sheet date. When quoted prices do not exist, we estimated the fair values using appropriate valuation models, and when observable market data are not available, we used unobservable inputs. They require management to make significant assumptions with respect to future developments, which are inherently uncertain and may therefore deviate from actual developments. Critical assumptions used are disclosed in our 2009 financial statements. Independent valuations may have been obtained to support management's determination of fair values.

Net income

- Net income of EUR 465 million was driven by an improvement in operating earnings and lower charges compared to Q4 2009.
- EBITA increased by EUR 211 million year-on-year to 11.8% of sales, driven by higher operating earnings and EUR 180 million lower restructuring and acquisition-related charges. EBITA included a favorable effect of EUR 83 million from a release of pension provisions. Excluding these items, EBITA amounted to 11.4% of sales.
- Financial income and expenses decreased due to lower net interest expenses.
- Despite higher taxable earnings, tax charges were relatively lower compared to Q4 2009, resulting in an effective tax rate of 32% in the quarter.

Sales by sector

- Group nominal sales increased by 2%, driven by a 6% positive currency impact. Sales amounted to EUR 7,392 million and were 4% lower than in Q4 2009 on a comparable basis. This impacted all our businesses, in particular Consumer Lifestyle and the consumer businesses of Lighting as well as our service business in Healthcare.
- Healthcare comparable sales increased by 2%, as high single-digit growth in emerging markets was tempered by flat sales in mature markets. A sales decline at Imaging Systems was more than offset by growth in other businesses, primarily Home Healthcare Solutions.
- Consumer Lifestyle reported an 11% comparable decline, which was mainly attributable to sales declines in mature markets, partly offset by high single-digit growth in emerging markets. Excluding Television, the comparable sales decline was 6%. Growth was recorded at Health & Wellness and Personal Care, while comparable sales in other businesses declined.
- Lighting comparable sales were in line with Q4 2009; robust sales growth in LED and Lighting Systems & Controls was offset by a sales decline in our consumer businesses. From a geographic perspective, sales growth in North America and emerging markets, India in particular, was offset by a sales decline in Western Europe.

We expect emerging markets to continue to support growth in all three sectors while consumer sentiment in mature markets remains subdued. We will continue our initiatives to ignite growth in Consumer Lifestyle.

Performance of the Group

- Sales for the full year 2010 amounted to EUR 25.4 billion, or 10% nominal growth. Excluding favorable currency impact and portfolio changes, comparable sales grew 4%. Sales growth was driven by Lighting (9%) and Healthcare (4%), tempered by 1% growth at Consumer Lifestyle. Comparable growth was mainly attributable to emerging markets (+12%), while mature markets saw modest 1% growth.
- EBITA (EUR 2,552 million, or 10.0% of sales) increased by EUR 1,502 million compared to 2009, driven by all sectors, notably Lighting (EUR 724 million higher) and Healthcare (EUR 338 million higher). EBITA improvement was attributable to higher sales, improved gross margin and EUR 318 million lower restructuring and acquisition-related charges.
- Excluding restructuring and acquisition-related charges and pension provision releases of EUR 114 million, EBITA was EUR 2,666 million, or 10.5% of sales, compared to EUR 1,474 million, or 6.4% of sales, in 2009.
- EBIT amounted to EUR 2,065 million, an improvement of EUR 1,451 million, largely driven by higher operational earnings across all sectors.
- Financial income and expenses showed a net financial expense of EUR 122 million, EUR 44 million lower year-on-year, mainly driven by lower interest expenses and 2010's favorable impact of the gain on the sale of the remaining stake in NXP. This was partly offset by the gain on sale and dividend income from LG Display in 2009's result.
- Tax charges were EUR 409 million higher than in 2009, mainly attributable to higher earnings in 2010 and the net tax benefit related to the recognition of a deferred tax asset for Lumileds in 2009, partly offset by the release of tax provisions in 2010.
- Results from investments in associates were EUR 58 million lower than in 2009, especially due to gains in 2009 related to the reversal of impairments which were initially recognized in 2008.
- Cash flows from operating activities improved from EUR 1,545 million in 2009 to EUR 2,156 million, mainly due to higher cash earnings, and asbestos payments in 2009, partly offset by higher working capital requirements.
- Net operating capital decreased by EUR 578 million compared to the 2009 level, largely as a result of lower pension assets and lower working capital.
